

St Albans Musical Theatre Company

Website Terms and Conditions

1. Ownership

The www.samtc.org.uk website is owned and provided by St Albans Musical Theatre Company, a registered charity No 295795.

This page sets out the terms of use on which you may make use of the website. By using the website you indicate that you accept these terms of use so please read them carefully. If you do not agree to these terms of use, please refrain from using the website.

2. Intellectual Property

St Albans Musical Theatre Company is the owner or licensee of all intellectual property rights in the website and in the material published on it. These works are protected by copyright and other laws.

Subject to the provisions below you may download, view and print pages from the website for non-commercial purposes only. The permission to download and print does not extend to materials identified on the website as belonging to third parties, where you must obtain the permission of the relevant owners before doing so.

You may not otherwise copy, reproduce, modify or redistribute in whole or in part any images or pages from the website without the prior written consent of St Albans Musical Theatre Company.

You may not use any of St Albans Musical Theatre Company registered or unregistered trade marks or logos for any purpose whatsoever with the prior written consent of the Company.

3. Information on the website

The Website has been prepared with the primary aim of providing information about our Company, our musical theatre shows and other activities.

The information on the Website (including but not limited to show information, such as dates, venues and prices) is believed to be correct at the time of publication, but St Albans Musical Theatre Company reserves the right to make changes to such information at any time without notice. St Albans Musical Theatre Company gives no warranty whatsoever that any such information will be accurate or complete at any particular time or at all. If you see any information on the Website that you think is inaccurate then please let us know by e-mailing samtcbusiness@gmail.com.

The website is provided on an 'as is' basis, without any representations, conditions, warranties (express or implied), undertakings or other terms of any kind, which are excluded by St Albans Musical Theatre Company to the fullest extent permitted by law.

St Albans Musical Theatre Company will use reasonable endeavours to ensure that availability of the Website will be uninterrupted outside scheduled downtime for repairs and upgrades; however, due to the nature of the Internet, this cannot be guaranteed.

St Albans Musical Theatre Company excludes all liability to the fullest extent permitted by law in respect of any loss of profits, revenue, goodwill, business opportunity, any loss of or cost of restoration of data or any direct, indirect or consequential loss or damage resulting or arising from any non-availability or use of the Website or any website linked to it or from reliance on any contents of the Website or any material or information accessed through it.

St Albans Musical Theatre Company does not necessarily endorse the content of any third party material made available on the Website. Any advice, recommendations, views and/or opinions contained within such third party material are those of the author or contributor and not of the Company.

4 Acceptable use

When using the Website, you agree not to:

- use the Website in such a way that disrupts, interferes with or restricts the use of the Website by other users or in any way that breaches any applicable law or regulation;
- upload, display or transmit any materials through the Website which are false, offensive, defamatory, threatening, obscene, abusive, menacing, indecent, unlawful or which violate, breach or infringe the rights of any other person anywhere in the world (including, without limitation, any intellectual property rights) or attempt to do so;
- use the Website to transmit, or procure the sending of, any unsolicited or unauthorised advertising or promotional material or any other form of similar solicitation (spam);
- reverse engineer, decompile, copy or adapt any software or other code or scripts forming part of the Website or attempt to transmit to or via the Website any information that contains a virus, worm, Trojan horse or other harmful or disruptive component; or
- change, modify, delete, interfere with or misuse data contained on the Website, including any data relating to any third party.

5. Log files

Every time someone visits our web site a log file is generated on our computer.

The log file records the time and date of your visit, the files that were requested, your IP (Internet Protocol) address, the referrer URL (if provided) and the browser version. We collect this information to help us diagnose problems and administer our systems and to audit the geographical make-up of users and how they have arrived at our site; that is, from what other sites have visitors arrived - this information being obtained from the referrer URL.

We do not normally link IP addresses to anything personally identifiable, which means that you remain anonymous even though we include your IP address in our aggregate information. However, we can and will attempt to use IP addresses to identify a user when we feel it is necessary to enforce compliance with our terms and conditions, or to protect our services and other users or if we are compelled to do so by law.

6. Cookies

Cookies are pieces of data that a website can transfer to an individual's computer hard drive for record keeping. Cookies can make websites easier to use by storing information about your preferences on a particular website. The information may remain on your computer after the Internet session finishes and you leave the website but you can delete them using some browsers, manually or using system utilities. Most internet browsers are pre-set to accept cookies.

If you prefer not to receive cookies, you can adjust your internet browser to refuse cookies or to warn you when cookies are being used. This site will work more efficiently if receipt of cookies is enabled but it will still operate if you disable cookies.

Visiting this site with your browser settings adjusted to accept cookies tells us that you consent to our use of cookies as described in this notice.

Please note that we are not responsible for information available on these websites.

7. Google Analytics

We use Google Analytics to collect information about how our visitors use and navigate this website. We use this information to analyse usage of our website so that we can improve your experience of it.

The cookies collect information such as the number of visitors to the site, which pages they visited and where they came to the site from. This information is anonymous and cannot be used to identify you personally.

8 Third-party cookies

During your visits to this website you may be delivered cookies by third-party websites. When you visit a page with content embedded from, for example, Facebook, Twitter or YouTube, you may be presented with cookies from these websites. St Albans Musical Theatre Company does not control the dissemination of these cookies. You should check the third-party websites for more information about these.

9. Other websites

This website may contain links to other websites which are outside our control and are not covered by this privacy notice. If you access other sites using the links provided, the operators of these sites may collect information from you that will be used by them in accordance with their policies, which may differ from ours.

10. Accessibility

This website has been designed to be accessible to as wide an audience as possible. It is possible to increase (or even decrease) the size of all the text on the pages of most websites and to zoom in and out. You can do this by using the font size and zoom controls integrated in your web browser. Web browsers all do this differently, but in general you should look at the options in the browser's 'View' menu, or you can consult your browser's Help documentation.
